...Improving your skills in developing European projects!

The European Academy for Education and Social Research is proud to announce the 2nd Edition of the Master in Technologies for the Development of the European Projects that will take place from October to December 2012 in three different locations: Rovinj (Croatia), Dublin (Ireland) and Brussels (Belgium). For the details of the first edition give a look to the Master brochure:

Master courses:

1. European Institutions and funding policies: The EU Institutions and how they work; EU guidelines for the funding period 2007 – 2013 and the next multiannual EU budget 2014 – 2020; EU enlargement and Regional policy).
2. European Funding Opportunities: Instrument for Pre – Accession (IPA) for Western Balkans; access to Structural Funds; Community Programmes as FP7, CIP, LIFE +, LLP, Progress, Culture, European for Citizens, Youth in Action...).
3. European Projects English: the overall aim is to support who need to use English accurately and appropriately in order to communicate successfully with international project partners, write effective project proposals and submit official documents to the European Commission commensurate with the standards of the EU.
4. European Projects Development: Project Approach & Partnership Building; Project Implementation; Project Management; Projects Budget – Monitoring & Reporting). The participants will also attend to the European Projects Awards 2012 ceremony at the European Economic and Social Committee.
5. Lobbying and Networking for European projects: Understand the EU policy-making process, Best practices in the utilisation of EU funds; EU projects implemented at Regional level; meeting with the EU affair advisors and new potential project partners.

Teaching methodology:

The courses combine traditional in-class lectures, the analysis of case studies and workshops led by professors, project managers, consultants and EU affair advisors. Each course also includes the European Projects Simulation on My Europa platform led by European Projects Association experts. The innovation of this Master course consists in the technologies provided by My Europa. It is a web-based lifelong e-learning platform designed to develop European projects. The students will get the Individual Membership of My Europa that already counts more than 1300 members among students, young professionals, experts and organisations.

How to apply ?

The enrolled period will start officially on 20 July until 10 September 2012. You can already make an expression of interest for the whole Master programme or the single courses.
